

SUMMER SCHOOL ON MIGRATION AND DEVELOPMENT

August 14th – 20th 2022, Prague

Geographic Migration Centre – GEOMIGRACE www.geomigrace.cz, a research institute affiliated with the Department of Social Geography and Regional Development, Faculty of Science, Charles University, Prague, with a support of the International Migration Research Network IMISCOE www.imiscoe.org, organizes Summer School on Migration and Development in Prague, Czechia, 14 – 20 August 2022.

The one-week course will be organized at the Faculty of Science, Charles University, in the heart of the capital city, Prague (Albertov 6). Experienced and respected scholars and practitioners (from international and non-governmental organizations) from various countries will take part in the Summer School while delivering lectures and/or leading seminars, workshops, panel discussions on issues closely related to migration and development issues. These will be put into broader political, economic, sociocultural, demographic, and geographical contexts.

We expect as many as 70 – 100 participants from many countries worldwide (literally, from all the continents) - MA students, Ph.D. candidates and people from international and non-governmental organizations. Special attention will be paid to doctoral students for whom a special session will be arranged (some of the Ph.D. students will be provided with their Ph.D. theses feedback). The selection of participants, speakers and the organization of the summer school will be in line with the principles of diversity.

The summer school will be physically held in Prague, if necessary, a hybrid/online program will be announced and arranged in advance.

In addition to the academic part, other accompanying events, especially cultural ones, will take place.

There will be three keynotes delivered by:
